ONE MAN WHO KNOWS

Has a Few Words on the Naval Militia.

BORES IT INTO CAPTAIN SIMMS

Arguments Which Stand Out Against Assertions—The View of the Secretary of the Navy—Some Facts Which Are Decidedly Interesting.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—Through the courtesy of a Liverpool friend I have been favored with a copy of a paper containing an attack on the Naval Reserves by John H. Simms.

Under ordinary circumstances it would be entirely ignored, as the writer's palpable ignorance of his subject is plainly evident to anyone acquainted with even the most elementary principles of military science. But the article in question is calculated to deceive the average reader, and for that reason, and that reason alone, we take this opportunity of stating the real purpose of the Reserves, and of replying to some of the unjust criticisms made thereupon.

In case of a foreign war, necessitating the placing of the 80 odd vessels of the United States navy in commission, there would be required, to man them effectually, about 21,000 men. This is exclusive of the vessels of the auxiliary navy, such as the New York, Paris, St. Louis, St. Paul, etc., which would require about 4,000 more. We have then 25,000 men required. Let us see where they are to come from. According to the report of Secretary Herbert for 1895, we have a total strength of 13,400, including all officers, men and marines. Of the Naval Reserves already in service there are 2,695, making a total effective force of 16,155, or nearly 9,000 men short of the requirements of actual war. It will not require much study to see that if this country ever engages in foreign war, it must of necessity be largely, if not wholly, a naval war, and it is of the very greatest importance, not only to the state of Ohio, but to the nation at large, that we have the means of fully equipping our navy for active service on the shortest notice; and this refers especially to the Naval Reserves, as upon them will fall the great burden of the defense of our extensive coast line.

To quote from the letter in question, "Seeing that it is of no use to the state, and is more liable to be social than military or naval, etc.," we may be interested in knowing what Secretary Herbert has to say in his official report to the president on that subject:

"The naval militia is slowly but surely, through natural evolutionary process, finding its best field as a factor in national defense, and as an auxiliary to the regular navy. Its main element of strength lies primarily in a fine personnel, marked by great patriotism, zeal, enthusiasm and a high degree of intelligence. It would be hard in any country to find a finer body of physically and mentally well-developed young men than those in these organizations. It is no exaggeration to say that they are among the very best of our citizens." And again the secretary has been good enough to say of these, according to Mr. Simms' "entirely useless organizations," the information collected by the first battalion of the naval militia of New York during the past summer relative to the shore line of Long Island is of such value that the department unhesitatingly endorses the proposition to engage this corps in the study of our entire coast line."

To quote from the fourth section of Mr. Simms' letter, from "close observation" "I have found out that such organizations are more social than military, because there is not one case of which I could imagine that they would be called upon to do active duty for the state." Evidently in his close observation he has overlooked such trifles in military history as Hannibal's defeat by Scipio, Nelson's great victory over Villeneuve at Trafalgar, by which the downfall of Napoleon was assured, and in our own civil war, the enormous importance of the operations of the Union navy, many of them inland, by which many of the greatest victories of our generals were made possible. Even Perry's famous victory on Lake Erie seems to afford to him no suggestion of a possible chance to use in the future, an Ohio Naval Reserve. No doubt the captain is thoroughly familiar with the military value of a base, and it is well to remember that no matter what the size of an army that we might be able to throw into Canada in case of necessity, that we could not maintain that army there for any length of time unless we had command of the waters adjacent thereto, and as according to the treaty of 1817 we are allowed but one war vessel on the lakes, the only way that we can secure that control of the waters is by the maintenance of a sufficient body of trained naval reserves, ready to man the vessels of our auxiliary navy and conquer the lakes before the enemy would have time to bring up his stronger ships, with which we would be unable to cope. In case of war with England, Ohio would unquestionably be invaded, as pointed out by Captain Burns, of the regular army, at Columbus last week, and the Naval Reserves would afford the best possible defense against such an attack.

As to the character of the men who are back of this movement and their lack of military knowledge, there are officers and ex-officers of the Ohio National Guard who hold and have held much higher rank than that of Mr. Simms, and when they secure the support of the most influential trade organizations in the state, it may be reasonably supposed that they know what they are doing.

The cost of maintenance of the reserves will be comparatively insignificant, and will run less per capita than in the Ohio National Guard. The reserves are thoroughly drilled in infantry and artillery tactics, and in case of need can render excellent service ashore as well as afloat, so that they generally prove to be the best "all around" men in the service. Four men with a knowledge of steam machinery and four others with a practical knowledge of electricity are required by law to be in each division, and it will be expected in addition to their other duties that a thoroughly reliable chart of the waters of the state will be made by them for use in case of war.

To anyone who may be sufficiently interested to inquire further into the Naval Reserves, I shall be pleased to furnish any information in my power upon demand. My address may be obtained from the publishers of this paper.

ANOTHER LIAR CAUGHT.
Non-Union Offices Acting the Part of Munchausen.

Men who are interested in non-union printing offices, and who do not believe in paying good wages and that "the laborer is worthy of his hire," are circulating the report that union offices are charging $3 per thousand for printing the union label on candidates' cards. The statement is a mean falsehood, the coinage of a meager mind and life. Candidates did at first get cards printed at union offices, without having the union label printed thereon. When they returned the same, asking that the label should be placed thereon, they were charged but 30 cents per thousand, the mere cost of press work. As for cards in the daily papers of the city, the News Review has charged merchants nothing more, and no advantage has been taken of the candidates Unionists all over the city, of every branch of trade, act in accordance with the solid principles of your organizations. In unity is strength. Demonstrate the fact in a practical way, that you are able to take good care of yourselves and to defeat the machinations and trickery of non-unionists and advocates of low wages.

SMOKED A CIGARETTE.

Little Girls Were Passing It Around on Sixth Street.

There was a scene on Sixth street yesterday afternoon. A party of young girls, none of whom seemed over 15 years of age, were smoking. They had secured a cigarette in some way, and one of them, who seemed to know all about it, put the match to the little smoker. Then it was passed from one hand to another until they had each had a few draws. They were greatly delighted with their experience, and enjoyed it very much. Whether they were discovered by some one with authority to spank them is not known.

A PEASANT RECEPTION.

Father Smythe Made a Speech and There Was Singing.

The reception tendered the Temperance society by the Aid Society of St. Aloysius' church last night was a pleasant event. Father Smythe made an excellent address, and there was music by a quartet made up of John McNicol, William McGeever, John Hester and Robert Wheatley. Miss Stack, of Pittsburg, also sang very well, and the time was spent in a delightful manner. The social was conducted in the rooms of the Temperance society in the Diamond, and was attended by a large number of people.

THREE MINUTES LOST

The Engineer's Story of Last Sunday's Fire.

ORDERED TO CROSS THE STREET

He Thought the Man Was in Authority and Made the Best Time Possible—When He Discovered the Fire He Sound the Whistle.

The following letter explains itself, and permits a little more light to fall upon the incident which sent a local paper into a rage the other evening:

"Please accept my statement in regard to the burning down of the stable of the East Liverpool Coal company. I was going west on first 89, in charge of engine 615, with a long and heavy train. Passenger train 341 passed me at East Liverpool passing siding. Ten minutes later I started my engine. As I approached the passenger station I saw the air was full of smoke, and when close to Washington street I discovered a fire. I sounded the whistle in the hope that it would give an alarm. There was no flagman sent out to warn me to stop. A man stepped on the track in the glare of the headlight, about two car lengths from the street, and motioned me to stop; but it was impossible. I could not do it without crossing the street. I could have stopped and cut behind the third or fourth car from the engine; but before I came to a full stop, a man ran up along the side of the engine and told me to pull across as soon as possible. Supposing him to be some one in authority, I pulled over the street as soon as I could. The street was not blocked more than three minutes at most. Yours Respectfully, Engineer of 615 last Sunday morning." The engineer tells the story substantially as it was given in this paper, and being the party most interested, he should know what he is talking about.

E. B. FULLER,

NO COMPLAINT.

A New York Dealer Finds American Toilet and Dinner Ware Right.

A member of a leading New York department store is quoted by trade papers as saying that he will not send a buyer to Europe this year because it doesn't pay. What goods he wants from abroad he will buy by catalogue. His buyer, however, will soon make a tour of American potteries, and he proposes to buy largely from them. He finds no fault with American dinner and toilet ware, the shapes and decorations being admirably adapted to the market, and prices are all right. He must go to Germany, however, for the small, cheap stuff, because it can not yet be manufactured here at prices that will allow competition.

TOO MUCH WORK.

Candidates are Opposed to a Long Canvass.

"If ever I run for office again I am going to attempt to persuade the other fellows after the same job to stay off the track until a short time before the primaries," said a leading county candidate yesterday. "I never worked so hard in my life as during the past few weeks. It is simply awful. This is a big county, and when a fellow attempts to get over it all he has a big contract on his hands. It not only wears out a man physically, but it costs money. If all candidates would conduct the canvass by letter it would be as fair for one as any other, and would be a big gain in this fight for office."

THAT IS LOVE.

What a Youngster Thinks of the Tender Passion.

The teacher of one of the lower grades at the Fourth street school asked her youngsters to each write an essay the other day and many unique specimens were given her. Of the lot this is perhaps the best:

"I am going to try and write you an essay about love. Love is one of the most wonderful things in the world. We could not live without love. And we could not live without oxygen, and nitrogen. And there are many other things which we could not live without. But love is just one of the most wonderful things in the world. This is all I have to say for this time. For my time is up."

OBJECTS TO BE HAMMERED.

An East End Man Does Not Like the Prospects.

W. D. Derringer, night engineer at the East End flint mill, called on Mayor Gilbert this morning, and told a tale of woe. Not long ago he discharged the cylinder man, whose name is Streets, because, as he claims, he was continually falling asleep when on duty. Derringer thought this sufficient cause, but he claims that Streets did not look at it in that light, and made threats against him. One of these he says was that Streets would "hammer the life out of him," and that prospect Derringer did not enjoy. He wanted the mayor to notify Streets that he must keep the peace.

MAKING READY.

The Lincoln Day Banquet Will Take Place.

A rousing meeting of the McKinley club was held last night for the purpose of arranging matters in connection with the Lincoln banquet. Invitations will be sent to a number of prominent people in the county, and addresses will be made by visitors as well as members of the organization. The committee is now at work on the program and expect to have it completed in a few days. It is the desire of the club to have covers laid for no less than 100 persons.

Delegates to the state meeting at Columbus were chosen as follows: Walter B. Hill, George Ashbaugh, W. V. Blake, James Cowan, John Powell, E. W. Hill, Albert Johnson, W. H. Tritt and H. E. Porter. Alternates were also selected.

INCREASING THE PLANT.

The Thompson Company are Making Improvements.

The Thompson Pottery company have felt the force of the demand for decorated ware, and will add two decorating kilns to the plant at once. Work has already been commenced on the foundation, and will be pushed along as rapidly as possible. An addition will be made to the decorating department in order that more decorators can be employed. The fame of East Liverpool's decorated ware is spreading throughout the country, and there is much more demand for it than in the past.

FREE FUEL.

People Obtain It From the Barges on Line Island.

The barges stranded by the Alles on Line Island have set up in business against the coal dealers of the city, and people in skiffs are taking it away as fast as possible. The coal was intended for the New Orleans market, and is of the best quality. The junks are large and bright in appearance, making up the best coal seen in this city for many months. Some of it was unloaded and taken away on floats, but a quantity yet remains, and is rapidly being taken away without anyone asking for payment.

SIX CHICKENS STOLEN.

Some Thief Made a Raid on a Sixth Street Coop.

Thomas Buckley, a resident of Sixth and Jefferson streets, arose this morning to find that some one had been in his chicken house during the night. Buckley had a nice lot of fowls, and the thief evidently knew it for he got away with six of the best. He left no trace by which he could be identified, and the owner of the fowls expects never to hear of them again. The chicken thieves seem to be moving up town since they were a few weeks ago operating extensively in the West End.

ANOTHER ELECTRIC LINE.

It Is to Connect the River Towns, They Say.

The Toronto Tribune has heard a resident of that place say that an electric line to compete with the Cleveland and Pittsburgh is one of the things for the future. It is to connect all the towns on the river, and is expected to be a paying investment. Perhaps this is the ghost of that great project born in Pittsburgh a year or more ago. Then it was said that millions of capital was anxiously awaiting an opportunity to build an electric line 200 miles long for the purpose of competing with the steam roads.

Another Chance for Tommy.

A young lad named Stevens, who has been an inmate of the county infirmary was in town today, and the trustees will have him endeavor to induce Tommy Humphreys to return with him tomorrow. They want Tommy at the infirmary, but he will not go in spite of the many promises he has made.

Reserved His Decision.

The River Mills company, of New Philadelphia, against whom a judgment was given in the court of Squire Manley yesterday afternoon, asked a new trial and the question was argued today. The squire reserved his decision until tomorrow.

READY FOR THE WORK

Women Organize For a City Hospital.

THEY WILL LOSE NO TIME

The Meeting Was Largely Attended and Was Very Enthusiastic—Committees Appointed and Preparations Made for Pushing the Plan.

The first move which promises to result in a hospital for the city was made at a meeting held in the Young Men's Christian association rooms yesterday afternoon.

A large number of ladies were present when the appointed time arrived, and it was explained to them that the city needed a hospital perhaps worse than it needed anything else just now. They all agreed in that opinion and the following officers were chosen:

President, Mrs. N. A. Colclough; vice presidents, Mrs. Martha McKinnon, Mrs. R. B. Watson, Mrs. R. B. Stevenson and Mrs. R. L. Herbert. Miss. E. P. Hazlett was chosen secretary, and Mrs. D. McDonald treasurer. It will be observed that each vice president is a resident of a different ward, and they will be expected to look after the hospital business in their respective portions of the city.

The Thompson Pottery company was appointed to prepare a constitution that will be reported at the next meeting, Feb. 6. Another committee was chosen whose business it will be to rent a building or such quarters as can be used temporarily for the reception and treatment of patients. The membership fee was placed at $1 a year, and every lady present was urged to spread the fame of the organization and secure members. Over 100 are wanted for the next meeting. They will appreciate contributions of anything that can be used in a hospital, and earnestly ask the aid of the public in making the movement a success. The ladies were very enthusiastic at the meeting, and one of them said today that she never attended a meeting where there was more enthusiasm displayed. It will require some time for the ladies to place themselves on a sound foundation financially, and they realize it, but by their united efforts see success in the future.

SQUELCHED THE SCANDAL.

Details are Not Allowed to Appear in Public.

The most sensational scandal that has been afloat in the city for a long time appeared on the streets last night. It was clothed in the garb of truthfulness, and said that a young man well known in the packing shed of a leading pottery had been arrested on a paternity charge preferred by a comely colored girl. He pleaded hard that the story might not get out, and the matter had been settled by the payment of $20 agreed upon by the interested parties. The story was verified by the News Review, and the names are known. Constable Lyon made the arrest, and the case was in the court of Squire Morley.

OBJECTS TO BE HAMMERED.

An East End Man Does Not Like the Prospects.

W. D. Derringer, night engineer at the East End flint mill, called on Mayor Gilbert this morning, and told a tale of woe. Not long ago he discharged the cylinder man, whose name is Streets, because, as he claims, he was continually failing asleep when on duty. Derringer thought this sufficient cause, but he claims that Streets did not look at it in that light, and made threats against him. One of these he says was that Streets would "hammer the life out of him," and that prospect Derringer did not enjoy. He wanted the mayor to notify Streets that he must keep the peace.

MAKING READY.

The Lincoln Day Banquet Will Take Place.

A rousing meeting of the McKinley club was held last night for the purpose of arranging matters in connection with the Lincoln banquet. Invitations will be sent to a number of prominent people in the county, and addresses will be made by visitors as well as members of the organization.

The committee is now at work on the program and expects to have it completed in a few days. It is the desire of the club to have covers laid for no less than 100 persons.

Delegates to the state meeting at Columbus were chosen as follows: Walter B. Hill, George Ashbaugh, W. V. Blake, James Cowan, John Powell, E. W. Hill, Albert Johnson, W. H. Tritt and H. E. Porter. Alternates were also selected.

INCREASING THE PLANT.

The Thompson Company are Making Improvements.

The Thompson Pottery company have felt the force of the demand for decorated ware, and will add two decorating kilns to the plant at once. Work has already been commenced on the foundation, and will be pushed along as rapidly as possible. An addition will be made to the decorating department in order that more decorators can be employed. The fame of East Liverpool's decorated ware is spreading throughout the country, and there is much more demand for it than in the past.

FREE FUEL.

People Obtain it From the Barges on Line Island.

The barges stranded by the Ailes on Line island have set up in business against the coal dealers of the city, and people in skiffs are taking it away as fast as possible. The coal is intended for the New Orleans market, and is of the best quality. The lumps are large and bright in appearance, making up the best coal seen in this city for many months. Some of it was unloaded and taken away on floats, but a quantity yet remains, and is rapidly being taken away without anyone asking for payment.

SIX CHICKENS STOLEN.

Some Thief Made a Raid on a Sixth Street Coop.

Thomas Buckley, a resident of Sixth and Jefferson streets, arose this morning to find that some one had been in his chicken house during the night. Buckley had a nice lot of fowls, and the thief evidently knew it for he got away with six of the best. He left no trace by which he could be identified, and the owner of the fowls expects never to hear of them again. The chicken thieves seem to be moving up town since they were a few weeks ago operating extensively in the West End.

ANOTHER ELECTRIC LINE.

It is to Connect the River Towns, They Say.

The Toronto Tribune has heard a resident of that place say that an electric line to compete with the Cleveland and Pittsburgh is one of the things for the future. It is to connect all the towns on the river, and is expected to be a paying investment. Perhaps this is the ghost of that great project born in Pittsburgh a year or more ago. Then it was said that millions of capital was anxiously awaiting an opportunity to build an electric line 200 miles long for the purpose of competing with the steam roads.

ANOTHER CHANCE FOR TOMMY.

A young lad named Stevens, who has been an inmate of the county infirmary was in town today, and the trustees will have him endeavor to induce Tommy Humphreys to return with him tomorrow. They want Tommy at the infirmary, but he will not go in spite of the many promises he has made.

RESERVED HIS DECISION.

The River Mills company, of New Philadelphia, against whom a judgment was given in the court of Squire Lyon, yesterday afternoon, asked a new trial and the question was argued today. The squire reserved his decision until tomorrow.

ENTERTAINED HER FRIENDS.

Miss Tillie Duncan, of St. John street, entertained a large number of friends in a pleasant manner last evening. The occasion was one of pleasure, and was greatly enjoyed.

READY FOR THE WORK

Women Organize For a City Hospital.

THEY WILL LOSE NO TIME

The Meeting Was Largely Attended and Was Very Enthusiastic—Committees Appointed and Preparations Made For Pushing the Plan.

The first move which promises to result in a hospital for the city was made at a meeting held in the Young Men's Christian association rooms yesterday afternoon.

A large number of ladies were present when the appointed time arrived, and it was explained to them that the city needed a hospital perhaps worse than it needed anything else just now. They all agreed in that opinion and the following officers were chosen:

President, Mrs. N. A. Colclough; vice presidents, Mrs. Martha McInnon, Mrs. R. B. Watson, Mrs. R. B. Stevenson and Mrs. R. L. Herbert. Miss E. P. Hazlett was chosen secretary, and Mrs. D. McDonald treasurer. It will be observed that each vice president is a resident of a different ward, and they will be expected to look after the hospital business in their respective portions of the city.

The Thompson Pottery company have felt the force of the demand for decorated ware, and will add two decorating kilns to the plant at once. Work has already been commenced on the foundation, and will be pushed along as rapidly as possible. An addition will be made to the decorating department in order that more decorators can be employed. The fame of East Liverpool's decorated ware is spreading throughout the country, and there is much more demand for it than in the past.

SQUELCHED THE SCANDAL.

Details are Not Allowed to Appear in Public.

The most sensational scandal that has been afloat in the city for a long time appeared on the streets last night. It was clothed in the garb of truthfulness, and said that a young man well known in the packing shed of a leading pottery had been arrested on a paternity charge preferred by a comely colored girl. He pleaded hard that the story might not get out, and the matter had been settled by the payment of $

Save You Money.

We feel kind of lonesome since Christmas. We had gotten used to the scramble and hustle of the holiday times, and the after-quiet makes us feel as if we had been dumped in the middle of a prairie. Rent and a hundred other expenses go on just as before, and as we can't make money anyway, we might as well lose it with a crowd as in solitude. So here goes prices to make things hum at our store in the Diamond. Come in and look through our superb stock of Overcoats, pick out one to suit you, and deduct one-fourth off the price. For example, if a coat is marked $16 take it along at $12; or if marked at $8 take it along at $6. In our suit and pants department we will make you reductions that will open your eyes. TO TEAR DOWN POLES

The Bell Company Will Make Some Changes.

COMPLYING WITH ORDINANCES

Every Pole in Town Will be Painted a Rich Green Color and New Ones Will be Set on all the Principal Streets—Soon to be Done.

In spite of the fact that the Bell company makes a monopoly under which the people groan when they think of prices the great concern proposes to change its lines in this city during the spring.

A large construction party is always employed by the Central District, and for several years they have been very busy extending lines and rebuilding others, the work being laid out from the Pittsburgh office. Among the improvements contemplated for the spring is a lot of work in this city, and the men will be sent here to do it as soon as the line they are now engaged on is done. They will root out the poles on the principal streets and replace them with the best grade used by the company. These will be painted a dark green, and every person who decorates one with handbills or notices will be prosecuted according to the law. The best of the old poles will be placed in alleys and back streets, where they will not be seen, and they, too, will be painted. A barrel of paint has already arrived for that purpose. The lines will be rebuilt and rearranged in the most convenient manner possible, and the system here made as perfect as it can be. It is remarked, however, that the company says not a word about lowering the rates.

RECOGNIZED.

Has Been the Worth of Mr. H. A. Weeks.

Mr. H. A. Weeks, for nine years in the office of the Knowles, Taylor & Anderson company in East End, will leave on Monday for Pittsburg where he will take up a special position in the office of the Central Sewerpiple association, the compact. With the position goes a substantial advancement in salary. Mr. Weeks has long been a resident of the city, and does not propose to give it up at present. His family will reside in East End. The gentleman is well known, being a leading Odd Fellow and chairman of the Association lecture course committee. His many friends wish him boundless success in his new venture.

WE HAVE GOLD.

Some Has Been Seen Circulating the Past Few Days.

The condition of the money market is such that little gold is seen in circulation. When people get it they usually keep it if they can afford to take that course, and not much is taken in exchange for merchandise. The clerk in a gents' furnishing establishment almost dropped dead the other day, when he was handed a double eagle and later another clerk smiled sweetly when she took up a two dollar and half piece. A dry goods store got a gold eagle on Saturday and a tobacco store took in a piece of the same kind.

OBJECT TO THE RATE.

Theatrical People Are Down on the Railroads.

The agent of a theatrical company was in town last night, and protested vigorously against the rate charged by the railroad companies for hauling a baggage car. Until the first of this year the Pennsylvania company was the only one to charge 25 cents a mile, and the companies dodged those lines whenever it is possible; but now the others have advanced to the same figure, and the theatrical people are desperate. The agent said the result would be the carrying of less scenery and baggage by companies.

CLIFTON & MIDDLETON.

A Big Reportore Company Coming Next Week.

The attraction at the Grand next week will be the Clifton & Middleton comedy company, the finest company of its kind on the road. They have played a most successful season, and have presented their performances to many thousands of people. The character of the company can not be denied and every one of the 25 people employed is good. The company has a fine list of plays and will undoubtedly attract much attention and crowded houses.

An Animated Discussion.

There was an animated discussion in the office of Clerk Gipner, of the water works, this afternoon. A property owner of Third street and a plumber were the principals, the former charging the latter with breaking the law in regard to the plumbing of his house. The plumber claimed that he was ignorant of the law as regards that matter, and it may be that he will not be called upon to pay the fine of $50 imposed in such cases.

"My wife was troubled with female weakness, and after a time had been doctoring with every doctor of any good reputation, and had spent lots of money in hospitals and in private houses. She continued to get worse. She was greatly prejudiced against patent medicines, and when last resort was tried a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, JAN. 31.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

THEY say that Mr. Brice, of New York, continues to dictate whom the president shall appoint to fill the few vacant offices in Ohio.

THERE is much talk from Washington of a vigorous foreign policy, but the impression is gaining ground that the president prefers duck hunting to bothering our foreign friends.

WHERE is the board of commerce? Why is it not interesting itself in the effort to improve the Ohio? Will it invite the river and harbor committee to call when it inspects the stream?

THE speech of Senator Tillman in the senate will have no effect upon President Cleveland. The spectacle presented is much like that of the man who whistled jigs to a milestone in the hope that it would dance.

POLITICALLY Pittsburgh now resembles what Mark Twain once said of the town when he came in on the Panhandle. "Why, it looks like hell with the lid off," was the remark of the man who had been on the Mississippi.

THE Steubenville Gazette and all other Democratic papers can point with as much pride as they can muster to the fact that East Liverpool potteries are running full time, but they must not forget that American ware is selling for English prices and American workmen are still employed at the 12½ per cent reduction imposed by the Wilson bill.

A PURE FOOD LAW.

Before the legislators leave Columbus for the year they will be called upon to consider a bill amending the pure food laws, in order that they may become of some use. One section of the bill reads as follows:

"It shall be the duty of the state board of health to establish such number of stations as their judgment may dictate where all articles of food and drink and drugs shall be inspected and analyzed that the diary and food commissioner and his assistants may furnish. The result of such inspection and analysis shall be published from time to time as the state board of health may direct."

The principle of the law, as exemplified in the above, shows a little more common sense than statesmanship. It puts in plain words a few provisions that might be of some use. The degree to which adulteration is practiced can not well be estimated, but it is certain that almost everything on the market in the way of food is today adulterated.

There is good reason for the popularity of Chamberlain's Cough remedy Davis & Buzard, of West Monterey, Clarion company, Pa., says: "It has cured people that our physicians could do nothing for. We persuaded them to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough remedy and they now recommend it with the rest of us." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Carlton Cornwell, foreman of the Gazette, Middletown, N. J., believes that Chamberlain's Cough remedy should be in every home. He used it for a cold and it effected a speedy cure. He says: "It is indeed a grand remedy, I can recommend to all. I have also seen it used for whooping cough, with the best results." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

NEW VESSELS LAUNCHED.

One a U. S. Gunboat and the Other a Subsidized Merchant Vessel.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Jan. 31.—The United States gunboat Helena, christened by Miss Agnes Bell Steele, daughter of the mayor of Helena, Mo., and the merchant steamer Grand Duchesse, christened by Miss Nellie E. Eldridge of Boston, have been launched here in the presence of a distinguished party from Washington, members of the house naval affairs committee, Admiral Brown, commanding the Norfolk navy yard, and a large concourse of people, estimated at 5,000, from adjacent towns.

There were present also representatives from Admiral Bancroft's great fleet in Hampton Roads, Senators Carter and Mantle of Montana, and Assistant Secretary McAdoo, who represented the navy department in the absence of Secretary Herbert, and a party of citizens from McKinley.

A fight was made in the convention on A. Cage, who is a candidate for re-election as chairman of the state central committee and who is a McKinley man. The excitement rose to such height that chairs were overturned. Chairman Guicard was thrust from his place on the platform, delegates were knocked down and trampled under foot and the utmost confusion reigned. The fight against Cage was not successful.

A M'KINLEY MAJORITY.

Sugar Planters Take a Hand In Louisiana Convention.

FORCE A SPLIT UP OF DELEGATES.

The Ex-Governor Gets Two of the Delegates-at-Large and Reed Two—The Ohio Man Will Have Most of the Other State Delegates.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 31.—McKinley will have a majority of the Louisiana delegation to the St. Louis convention.

The business men of New Orleans, the sugar planters, when it became evident that the money Kellogg, the Reed leader, is alleged to have used would carry the Republican state convention, got together quickly and such pressure was brought to bear in behalf of the McKinley men under Captain A. T. Wimberly, who has refused to use money in the fight, that a caucus of all the leaders, except Kellogg, was held and it was decided to send two McKinley delegates-at-large and two Reed men to St. Louis. Kellogg will not be on the delegation. No resolutions referring to the presidential candidates will be passed by the convention.

This will give McKinley a large majority of the delegates from this state. Four have already been elected. Governor Wilmouth says two will go from his district. A. T. Wimberly and Richard Sims have an easy fight in the Second district and both are enthusiastic McKinley men. This makes 10 of the 16 delegates to be elected who will be for McKinley.

The body will be placed, temporarily, in a vault in St. Matthew's cemetery until it is forwarded to the United States. On Sunday, at the American church, the Rev. Dr. Dickie will officiate at a special mourning service in honor of the late ambassador.

THE SQUATTERS CAN STAY.

A Big West Virginia Land Suit Decided at Wheeling.

WHEELING, Jan. 31.—The celebrated King-Mullins land suit, involving 1,500,000 acres of valuable coal and timber land in this state, the title of which has been in dispute for many years, has been decided in favor of the defendants.

The hundred squatters on the land in dispute, who were in the court as witnesses, are jubilant, as the verdict allows them to retain the land they live on. Among them are the famous Hatfield family of Hatfield-McCoy fame. The land mostly lies in Logan county.

Judge Goff ruled that the West Virginia law relating to the forfeiture of land for the non-payment of taxes is not in violation of the Federal constitution and instructed the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendants. This the jury did.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 31.—The Novoe Vremya publishes the following special dispatch from Vladivostok: "News comes from Yokohama that the English squadron in the Pacific is being augmented by six warships. At the same time a considerable increase is being made in the Japanese army."

England and Japan are evidently preparing energetically to meet possible complications arising out of the Korean and Russo-Chinese understanding.

many this is regarded as the first step toward a separate and independent organization.

OUR FOREIGN TRADE BOOMING.

The President Makes a Gratiating Report Regarding Exports of Manufactures.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The president has sent to congress the "Commercial Relations of the United States" for the years 1894-95, being the annual reports of the consular officers on the commerce and industries of their respective districts. The president says:

"The recent increase in the percentage of exports of manufactured articles as compared with the total of our exports seems to indicate that the United States is upon the threshold of a great development of this important branch of international trade. What is most needed to hasten the development is energetic action on the part of our manufacturers and exporters."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The national board of trade at its closing session, by a unanimous rising vote, directed the president of the board to send a peace sentiment resolution to the associated chambers of commerce of London.

He added that if ever there was a case for arbitration it was the Venezuela boundary dispute.

HONORS TO RUNYON'S MEMORY.

Representatives of Royalty Present at the Formal Funeral Services.

BERLIN, Jan. 31.—Memorial services have been held in St. George's chapel in honor of the late Mr. Theodore Runyon, United States ambassador to Germany. The imposing looking catafalque upon which the remains rested was buried under floral offerings from the deceased statesman's admirers, including tributes of respect from Emperor William of Germany, the empress, and ex-Emperor Frederick. The emperor, empress and the ex-empress of Germany were represented at the chapel by high court officials, and Prince Frederick Leopold of Prussia was present in person. The Rev. Dr. Dickie made the funeral address. A detachment of troops was drawn up before the church as a guard of honor.

At his birthday reception on Monday last, when Mr. Jackson represented the United States, the emperor spoke feelingly of the death of Mr. Runyon and added a few words showing his appreciation of the deceased man's ability and patriotism. His majesty also sent his aide de camp, Count von Moltke, to Mrs. Runyon with instructions to express the emperor's sympathy with her and her family in their bereavement.

The chapel was transformed into a mortuary chamber, and the catafalque in front of the altar was decorated with palms and wreaths, including one from President Cleveland. It was inscribed, in large silver letters, with "Blessed are they that die in the Lord."

The body will be placed, temporarily, in a vault in St. Matthew's cemetery until it is forwarded to the United States. On Sunday, at the American church, the Rev. Dr. Dickie will officiate at a special mourning service in honor of the late ambassador.

THE SQUATTERS CAN STAY.

A Big West Virginia Land Suit Decided at Wheeling.

WHEELING, Jan. 31.—The celebrated King-Mullins land suit, involving 1,500,000 acres of valuable coal and timber land in this state, the title of which has been in dispute for many years, has been decided in favor of the defendants.

The hundred squatters on the land in dispute, who were in the court as witnesses, are jubilant, as the verdict allows them to retain the land they live on.

Among them are the famous Hatfield family of Hatfield-McCoy fame. The land mostly lies in Logan county.

Judge Goff Ruled That the West Virginia Law Relating to the Forfeiture of Land for Non-Payment of Taxes is Not Violation of the Federal Constitution.

JUDGE Goff ruled that the West Virginia law relating to the forfeiture of land for non-payment of taxes is not in violation of the Federal constitution and instructed the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendants. This the jury did.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, JAN. 31.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

THEY say that Mr. Brice, of New York, continues to dictate whom the president shall appoint to fill the few vacant offices in Ohio.

THERE is much talk from Washington of a vigorous foreign policy, but the impression is gaining ground that the president prefers duck hunting to bothering our foreign friends.

WHERE is the board of commerce? Why is it not interesting itself in the effort to improve the Ohio? Will it invite the river and harbor committee to call when it inspects the stream?

THE speech of Senator Tillman in the senate will have no effect upon President Cleveland. The spectacle presented is much like that of the man who whistled jigs to a milestone in the hope that it would dance.

POLITICALLY Pittsburg now resembles what Mark Twain once said of the town when he came in on the Panhandle. "Why, it looks like hell with the lid off," was the remark of the man who had been on the Mississippi.

THE Steubenville Gazette and all other Democratic papers can point with as much pride as they can muster to the fact that East Liverpool potteries are running full time, but they must not forget that American ware is selling for English prices and American workmen are still employed at the 12 per cent reduction imposed by the Wilson bill.

A PURE FOOD LAW.

Before the legislators leave Columbus for the year they will be called upon to consider a bill amending the pure food laws, in order that they may become of some use. One section of the bill reads as follows:

"It shall be the duty of the state board of health to establish such number of stations as their judgment may dictate where all articles of food and drink and drugs shall be inspected and analyzed that the diary and food commissioner and his assistants may furnish. The result of such inspection and analysis shall be published from time to time as the state board of health may direct."

The principle of the law, as exemplified in the above, shows a little more common sense than statesmanship. It puts in plain words a few provisions that might be of some use. The degree to which adulteration is practiced can not well be estimated, but it is certain that almost everything on the market in the way of food is today adulterated.

There is good reason for the popularity of Chamberlain's Cough remedy Davis & Buzard, of West Monterey, Clarion company, Pa., says: "It has cured people that our physicians could do nothing for. We persuaded them to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough remedy and they now recommend it with the rest of us." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Carlton Cornwell, foreman of the Gazette, Middletown, N. J., believes that Chamberlain's Cough remedy should be in every home. He used it for a cold and it effected a speedy cure. He says: "It is indeed a grand remedy. I can recommend to all. I have also seen it used for whooping cough, with the best results." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Many stubborn and aggravating cases of rheumatism that were believed to be incurable and accepted as life legacies, have yielded to Chamberlain's Pain balm, much to the surprise and gratification of the sufferers. One application will relieve the pain and suffering and its continued use insures an effectual cure. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

A Victory For Temperance In the House.

LOCAL OPTION BILL WILL PASS.

The Three Bills Increasing Dow Tax Referred to Temperance Committee—Liquor Men Wanted Them to Go to Taxation Committee—Legislative News.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 31.—A test of strength of members of the house favoring Harris' local option bill has resulted in victory for the temperance people. Three bills had been introduced by the opposition increasing the Dow tax, hoping in this way to kill Harris' bill. The saloon element wanted these bills referred to the taxation committee while the temperance element wanted them referred to the temperance committee. They were referred to the latter committee after a hard fight, which is construed to mean that the Harris bill will pass the house.

Speaker Sleeper introduced a resolution to give seven-twelfths of an appropriation to Ohio university (Athens) and five-twelfths to Miami university. An amendment was offered to divide the appropriation equally among Ohio, Miami and Wilberforce (colored). This created a storm and was finally voted down and the original resolution adopted.

The house defeated the bill prohibiting divorced persons from marrying within one year of granting of decree.

A bill authorizing villages contiguous to cities to incorporate separately was introduced and will have the effect of preventing, if it becomes a law, cities from taking in hamlets to help bear the heavy city expense.

The house passed the following bills:

Giving Cincinnati board of administration concurrent jurisdiction with board of legislation in the sale of city property, including Cincinnati Southern railroad.

Amending act to prohibit use of fictitious names to partnerships and giving clerks 40 cents for filing returns and repealing advertising clause.

In the senate the Mosgrave medical bill, which passed the house was referred. An amendment will be introduced excluding all physicians now practicing.

The senate passed the following bills:

Giving Cincinnati board of administration power over public property sales. Fixing cigarette tax at $500 wholesale and $300 retail.

House joint resolution asking congress to restore the duty on wool.

These bills were introduced in the senate:

Establishing a board between all state institutions for exchange of commodities.

Prohibiting the shooting of quail, grouse or deer, except between Nov. 16 and Dec. 15.

Modifying Mosgrove bill to include women.

Providing for the payment for sheep killed by dogs.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31.—A. S. Pennoyer, one of the oldest and best known theatrical men in this country, has died of pneumonia at his home in this city. He was manager for Roland Reed. He served in the Mexican war as a drummer boy and was one of the charter members of the order of Elks.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Jan. 31.—Stanislaus Dazkowsky has filed papers in a suit against Katherine Dazkowsky for divorce. The complainant is now in Brown county jail awaiting trial on a charge of murdering the woman from whom he seeks a divorce.

A CORONER'S FUTILE INQUIRY.

Can't Place the Blame for the Disaster at Hollidaysburg, Pa.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., Jan. 31.—The cause of the explosion of the 30-inch cylinder boiler at the works of the Hollidaysburg Iron and Nail company, is still a mystery and the coroner has been unable to lay the blame on any one person.

The dead are: George Lane, a mason, crushed into a lifeless mass; Con Evans, a helper, skull crushed; Morrell Tress, a 15-year-old boy, head ground off under a wheel; two tramps, who had been trying meat at the furnace, buried in the ruins.

The injured are: Samuel Kephart puddler, scalded about face and body; will die. Robert McMurray, puddler, scalded about face and body; will die. Frank Cramer, superintendent of the mills, several ribs broken and head cut. Samuel Marks, puddler, severely scalded. John Wommer, puddler, scalded and hip broken; may die. Finley Ferguson, puddler, severely scalded. George Moore, wheeler, internal injuries. David McCloskey, boss of nail department, bodily injuries. Marshal Weir, laborer, spine injured; may die. John Heffrin, tramp, cuts in head; may die. George Rock, roller, cut in head. Robert Marks, straightener, wrist and ankle broken and internal injuries; may die. Daniel Unkys, catcher, internal injuries. William Hartsock, heater, several bodily injuries. Daniel Ayres, puddler, severe injuries.

The entire force of 120 men in the mill were more or less injured, with the exception of Lloyd Cramer, the engineer, and Westley Athey, the fireman, who escaped uninjured. The boiler was blown through the roof 300 feet and came crashing down through the roof of another department of the works. The entire roof was crushed to the floor below. The boiler almost caught the Martinsburg passenger train in its descent.

The W. C. T. U. Opposing Militarism in Public Schools.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Francis W. Leiter of Mansfield, O., superintendent of the department of physical culture in the National W. C. T. U., is sending out a petition to each legislator at Washington, of which this is a part:

"We, the undersigned, in behalf of the 300,000 members of the National W. C. T. U., and the homes which these members represent, do most earnestly protest against the passage of any measure, by your honorable body, which aims to provide military instruction in the public schools of the country. We believe that these schools should teach the principles of true government and peace rather than the science of warfare."

Elkhorn Negroes Still Aroused.

BLAINEFIELD, W. Va., Jan. 31.—Over 300 negroes have again met at Elkhorn and discussed the lynching of Alexander Jones. Resolutions were adopted and a committee appointed to confer with the county officials for the purpose of prosecuting members of the mob. The negroes' meeting lasted over six hours, and had it not been for the leaders a mob would have been organized to avenge Jones' death. If the county officers refuse to prosecute the mob serious trouble, it is feared, cannot be averted.

Appportionment Acts Unconstitutional.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 31.—The supreme court has declared invalid the legislative apportionment act of 1895, passed by Republicans. This involved the apportionment act also of 1895, passed by Democrats. This also goes down as unconstitutional.

We feel kind of lonesome since Christmas. We had gotten used to the scramble and bustle of the holiday times, and the after-quiet makes us feel as if we had been dumped in the middle of a prairie. So here goes prices to make things hum at our store in the Diamond. Come in and look through our superb stock of Overcoats, pick out one to suit you, and deduct one-fourth off the price. A MENACE TO HEALTH

Is What a Resident Calls the Jethro Road.

PEOPLE ARE OPPOSED TO PAVING

They Think It Costs Too Much Money
For the Benefits to Be Derived—Some
Are in Line and Want It Done as a Sensible Measure—Deep Mud.

An effort is being made to induce the people residing on Franklin street and Jethro road to have the way paved, but promoters of the scheme are meeting with opposition.

A petition is being circulated, and a number of property owners have put down their names, but like all things, there are others. The others in this case do not want the paving done, being content to abide with the mud, and that is where they differ from the land owners who are talking themselves hoarse in the endeavor to convince their neighbors that paving is the right thing. This is how one of the progressive ones put it to a reporter today:

"If these people refuse to enter this agreement council should order the road paved without regard to them. It is a menace to the public health. Jethro road is a disgrace to a civilized community. When the mud gets deep out there, and it will soon be at its worst, you can sink into it for a foot. The stench arising from it at such times makes a demand for clothespins, and even then it is hardly endurable. Franklin street is not much better, although the mud never gets so deep there because it is a hill. Why if that road was paved it would make one of the finest in the city."

Complexion Hints.

Avoid cosmetics. Deal gingerly with lotions. Steam the face once a fortnight.

Avoid pastry, sweets and greasy foods. Massage the skin for five or ten minutes every evening.

Never go out immediately after washing the face with warm water. Use a few drops of benzoin in the water in which the face is washed to tighten and whiten the skin.

Avoid alcoholic stimulants if you wish to avoid becoming "beefy" in line, and avoid tea and coffee if you would escape wrinkles.

Use cold cream to remove dust and grime, rubbing it into the face and removing it with a soft cloth. Then wash the grease off in warm water.

RECKLESS.

STRONG LEADERS.

A gentleman whose business takes him all over the county, was yesterday discussing politics with party of friends in this city, and remarked that he believed he could pick the winners at the primaries, because there was a strong leader for every office, and the others were in the distance.

THE MUDDY STREETS.

People living in those parts of the city not provided with pavements or board walks are complaining bitterly of the mud. In West End they also have a grievance against the light company, for when a light is out for a few minutes the unfortunate pedestrian always gets into the mud.

WOMAN AT THE WHEEL

Mrs. Mary Green Has Become a River Pilot.

THE FIRST IN THIS SECTION

There Are a Few on the Lower Mississippi, but None on the Ohio—Mrs. Green is the Wife of Captain Green, of the Well Known Bedford.

The Bedford, one of the boats best known on this end of the river and often seen at the local wharf, is to have a woman pilot.

The commander of the Bedford is Capt. Gordon Green and his wife, Mrs. Mary B. Green, is the lucky possessor of the license. She appeared before the local inspectors at Pittsburg yesterday, and was granted the coveted bit of paper which allows her to handle the wheel between that city and Wheeling or Sistersville. It is the first license ever granted a woman for this end of the river.

Mrs. Green passed with a good grade, and when a few pilots heard of her success, one proposed three cheers and they were given with a will. There are several woman pilots in the south, but Mrs. Green is the first for this section. She is described as a pleasant woman of medium height and rather stout. She has been on the boat with her husband for years, and has many times stood her watch at the wheel. She knows the river between the points named in her license as well as any man, and stood high in her examination. In the near future Mrs. Green will take a regular watch on the Bedford, and will become one of its pilots. All the rivermen are hoping she will be very much of a success.

AN EXPLANATION.

Something About the Opera House Music.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—In reply to an article which appeared in the News Review night before last, and also in the Crisis last night, and in justice to all parties concerned, I make this statement to the public:

The party who signs himself "Citizen" asks why my former drummer was displaced, etc.

In the first place he was not displaced. He gave up his position here, and joined a minstrel company. Of course I engaged another man, but the former drummer with the company got stranded and returned home.

Then himself and other parties came to me to get me to throw the new man over, which I promptly refused to do. In justice to my new man, I must say he is the best drummer I ever had, and a union man in good standing. The management of the opera house is fully aware of these facts, and there is no trouble whatever.

If Mr. Citizen wishes any further information he can obtain the same from the secretary of local union No. 77, Musicians Mutual Protective union.

H. F. SCHENKEL.

The Daughter.

The superior wisdom of the feminine mind is shown in the fact that the mother never rebels against her daughter's guidance. She is the first to discover the young woman's wisdom and she enjoys the security and sense of rest which come from feeling that she has some one to depend upon, some one to think and plan for her. She regards it as providential that as the husband of her youth grows careless, as his judgment becomes untrustworthy as to details, as he grows inclined to shirk the little questions which arise in the conduct of the household, the daughter quite naturally takes up the neglected duties and assumes the management of the affairs.

Of course it is often difficult for the mother to live up to the course the daughter marks out. She sometimes finds herself deficient in the strength or wisdom the daughter expects from her. But this is not real trouble, for under it all is the comforting sense of being guided by a strong will, the sense of being free from responsibility for the social and domestic welfare of the family is filling the young woman's soul with satisfaction, flattering her with the consciousness of her great usefulness, making her realize her importance in the world.—Kansas City Star.

ANOTHER CASE OF FEVER.

Another case of typhoid fever was reported to the authorities today. The victim is eight-year-old William Arbuthnot, of Monroe street. There have been no cases of contagious disease reported for several days.

GAVE A LEAP YEAR PARTY.

Strong Leaders.

A gentleman whose business takes him all over the county, was yesterday discussing politics with a party of friends in this city, and remarked that he believed he could pick the winners at the primaries, because there was a strong leader for every office, and the others were in the distance.

The Muddy Streets.

People living in those parts of the city not provided with pavements or board walks are complaining bitterly of the mud. In West End they also have a grievance against the light company, for when a light is out for a few minutes the unfortunate pedestrian always gets into the mud.

WOMAN AT THE WHEEL

Mrs. Mary Green Has Become a River Pilot.

THE FIRST IN THIS SECTION

There Are a Few on the Lower Mississippi, but None on the Ohio—Mrs. Green is the Wife of Captain Green, of the Well Known Bedford.

The Bedford, one of the boats best known on this end of the river and often seen at the local wharf, is to have a woman pilot.

The commander of the Bedford is Capt. Gordon Green and his wife, Mrs. Mary B. Green, is the lucky possessor of the license. She appeared before the local inspectors at Pittsburg yesterday, and was granted the coveted bit of paper which allows her to handle the wheel between that city and Wheeling or Sistersville. It is the first license ever granted a woman for this end of the river.

Mrs. Green passed with a good grade, and when a few pilots heard of her success, one proposed three cheers and they were given with a will. There are several woman pilots in the south, but Mrs. Green is the first for this section. She is described as a pleasant woman of medium height and rather stout. She has been on the boat with her husband for years, and has many times stood her watch at the wheel. She knows the river between the points named in her license as well as any man, and stood high in her examination. In the near future Mrs. Green will take a regular watch on the Bedford, and will become one of its pilots. All the rivermen are hoping she will be very much of a success.

AN EXPLANATION.

Something About the Opera House Music.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—In reply to an article which appeared in the News REVIEW night before last, and also in the Crisis last night, and in justice to all parties concerned, I make this statement to the public: The party who signs himself "Citizen" asks why my former drummer was displaced, etc.

In the first place he was not displaced. He gave up his position here, and joined a minstrel company. Of course I engaged another man, but the former drummer with the company got stranded and returned home. Then himself and other parties came to me to get me to throw the new man over, which I promptly refused to do. In justice to my new man, I must say he is the best drummer I ever had, and a union man in good standing. The management of the opera house is fully aware of these facts, and there is no trouble whatever. If Mr. Citizen wishes any further information he can obtain the same from the secretary of local union No. 77, Musicians Mutual Protective union.

The Daughter.

The superior wisdom of the feminine mind is shown in the fact that the mother never rebels against her daughter's guidance. She is the first to discover the young woman's wisdom and she enjoys the security and sense of rest which come from feeling that she has someone to depend upon, some one to think and plan for her. She regards it as providential that as the husband of her youth grows careless, as his judgment becomes untrustworthy as to details, as he grows inclined to shirk the little questions which arise in the conduct of the household, the daughter quite naturally takes up the neglected duties and assumes the management of the affairs. Of course it is often difficult for the mother to live up to the course the daughter marks out. She sometimes finds herself deficient in the strength or wisdom the daughter expects from her. But this is not real trouble, for under it all is the comforting sense of being guided by a strong will, the sense of being free from responsibility for the social and domestic welfare of the family is filling the young woman's soul with satisfaction, flattering her with the consciousness of her great usefulness, making her realize her importance in the world
